When people gather at Mass on Sunday, they bring with them their joys and sorrows, their giving and receiving, the good they have done and those things they are sorry for. Life is full of giving and receiving (taking) and sometimes gets out of balance. The Mass helps people to reflect on their daily lives and challenges them to try again. It gives Christians the strength and courage for this and the knowledge that they are supported in love and prayer.

Jesus understood very well how people often find it hard to love as much as they might do.

In Matthew's Gospel Jesus explains how God loves and gives advice to us on how to love better. Read Matthew 5: 45-58:

Q What do you think is the most important piece of advice in this text?

Activities to choose:

- The reading tells you something of what God's love is like. Chose 2 or 3 lines from this and describe how you would apply them in your daily life. How could this shape your life?
- Design a 'Charter to Live By' based on the Scripture passage above, making links between the Scripture and how Christians might lead their lives.
